

Your views on us. 2018 community survey results.

In 2018, FAME conducted its first ever donor survey. We are thrilled with the depth of responses received.

Describing FAME in three words:

The most humbling has been the kind words and comments about FAME and it's work.

"I am pleased you often work with the small creatures and plants as well."

"I see FAME as a "quiet achiever" not using resources to spruik itself to a greater audience, but getting involved with the job at hand of saving Australia's unique flora and fauna. Please keep up the excellent work. Thankyou."

"The Flinders Ranges project seems to be an example of the superb work of FAME."

"Supporting PhD research and the development of the toxic implant will provide another tool in the fight against feral cats (and possible other exotic predators in the future). This research would almost surely not have been undertaken without FAME's seed funding."

"You stick at a project... don't walk away from it if things become difficult. I like that."

This is what you, our donor community, have told us:

You are particularly proud of the Western Quoll and Brush-tailed Possums and Devil Ark project successes.

Your views on how project support is allocated:

99.08% feel engaged with the Foundation with our communication being right. For some in this group, they'd like to hear from us more.

You support FAME because you are deeply appalled at the rate of extinction of Australia's native species.

I support Board's decision

I like a say in how my donation is spent

75% believe the Foundation has good governance whilst 24.09% were neutral.

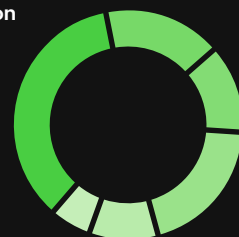

You are fiercely passionate and supportive of projects that work towards controlling feral predators – in particular, cats and foxes.

My home state

I really don't mind

Based on conservation status of species

Feral predator control

The large majority of our community enjoy reading the newsletter from cover to cover.